FEEDBACK ANALYSIS

The event was a great successful inspite of few technical problems and network issue that we people face during the event. 60-70 participants who were either the faculty members, lab. Staff or students who were attended the event offline were greatly influence and appreciated the various green method that can be used during performing the quantitative and qualitative analysis in the chemistry. As these methods of doing practical are very beneficial in term of chemical consumption, in term of generation of waste products and in term of time require to complete the practical. The alternate method for the determination of melting point and the boiling point were very much appreciated by the participants specially the faculty members and the lab staff as it is much simpler, easier and safer one. The safety measures and fist aids in the form or chart in the laboratory bearing all the contact numbers for the emergency cases were much appreciated by the visitors.

13. Programme on digital innovation and technology for gender equality

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

REPORT

Date: 15-03-2023

International Women's Day was celebrated at G.B. Pant Memorial College, Rampur on 15th March, 2023. The theme for this year was DigitALL: Innovation and Technology for Gender Equality. International Women's Day is celebrated every year on 8th March but due to Holi celebrations and local holiday for Fag Mela we celebrated this occasion on 15th March. The Chief Guest for the program was College Principal Prof. P.C.R. Negi and the key note speaker was Dr. Rajan Devi Negi. The Chief Guest addressed the gathering by discussing the role of providing equal opportunities for both men and women. He added that gender equality is possible only when parents do not discriminate among their children and provide equal opportunities for them to grow. A nation needs to value every gender equally to progress at the right place. A society attains better development in all aspects when every individual's dream of equal rights and equal access to resources is fulfilled.

The keynote speaker Dr. Rajan Devi Negi in her speech emphasised a great deal on the role of education and stated that as the level of education increases, awareness will increase in the society and this gap of inequality will reduce. Empowering women is not just a goal, it's a necessity. Each one of us should work towards creating a world where every woman can thrive.

The convener of The Women Grievance & Redressal Cell, Prof. Gita Sharma shed some light on this year's theme for International Women's Day which is DigitALL: Innovation and Technology for Gender Equality. In her speech she talked about the various objectives of Women's Day. The digital age is creating new and unprecedented opportunities to improve the lives of women and girls around the world. Digital technologies are rapidly transforming all spheres of life and establishing new entrance points and platforms for historically marginalised groups.

The main objective is to recognize the women and girls who are contributing to the advancement of transformative technology and digital education. Another motive is to draw attention to gender discrimination, violence and abuse against women. Also how imperative it has become to put an end to all this abuse against women.

An educational slideshow depicting the Technological changes throughout the century in Indian Cinema was presented by Prof. Gita Sharma. The audience went on a cinematic journey starting from 1913 and learnt about the cultural changes throughout the time span of 110 years.

Poetry recitation and slogan writing competitions were also organized in which students and gender champions volunteered. This event was a success because of the contribution of Prof. Rajesh Negi, Prof. Gopichand Negi, Prof. Priyanka Thakur, Prof. Sher Singh Negi, Prof. Narender Saini, Prof. Norbu Zongmo, Prof. Anuradha, Prof. Amit Shroshtha, Dr. Satpal Khund and Prof. Gaurav.
